Mintzer Mauch PLLC Welcomes Ivonne Norman as an Associate

October 27, 2026, New York, NY — Mintzer Mauch PLLC is pleased to announce that Ivonne Norman has joined the firm as an Associate, bringing more than 15 years of experience in civil litigation, dispute resolution, and various roles in academia.

Prior to joining Mintzer Mauch, Ivonne worked at the Sabin Center for Climate Change Law at Columbia Law School, where she managed a nationwide network of pro bono attorneys and contributed to academic research and publications addressing climate and clean energy issues. Ivonne has also held teaching and academic roles in environmental law and policy at leading New York institutions, including St. John's University School of Law and Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA).

In October 2026, Ivonne was recognized as an alumna honoree by New York Law School's Latin American Law Students Association for her leadership, service and impact in the legal field. In 2024, Ivonne received the Council of Merit Award from the Environmental and Energy Law Section at the New York State Bar Association, recognizing her leadership and contributions to the environmental law community.

Ivonne currently serves as Co-Chair of the Environmental Law Committee at the New York City Bar Association and as Co-Chair of the Environmental Justice Committee of the Environmental and Energy Law Section at the New York State Bar Association.

Ivonne earned her J.D. from New York Law School, and she is admitted to practice in New York State and before the U.S. District Courts for the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York.

Mintzer Mauch PLLC welcomes Ivonne Norman to the firm and her experience, perspective, and leadership that will serve the firm's clients.
